How to Achieve Predictable Excellence in Cosmetic Dentistry

Description:

Dr. Mike Malone has combined the occlusion and restorative teachings of L. D. Pankey, Alvin Fillastre, Pete Dawson, etc., with a passion for learning from the best and brightest in cosmetic dentistry. He has developed systems for combining predictable restorative techniques with ideal cosmetic procedures. He will go over his step-by-step process (utilizing advanced digital photography and presentations) for achieving predictable case acceptance for optimum dentistry. This full day lecture will highlight the systems he uses to achieve predictable excellence in cosmetic restorative procedures in his practice devoted to cosmetic and complex reconstructive dentistry.

Objectives:

- Complete the preparation phase faster and with more control
- Manage soft tissue and take ideal impressions every time
- Transfer the information in the diagnostic wax-up into a completed provisional that rivals the final restoration
- Complete and seat finished restorations with predictability

MIKE MALONE, DDS, FAGD

Past-President

American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry

Dr. Malone's commitment to excellence in restorative and cosmetic dentistry started early with extensive continuing education with his primary mentors: L. D. Pankey, Alvin Fillastre, Pete Dawson, and Mike Schuster. He received a fellowship in the Academy of General Dentistry in 1988 and is a member of the ADA, American Equilibration Society, the Pierre Fauchard Academy and the Pankey Alumni Association. He has been a member of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry since 1988, and was accredited in 1992. In 1995, Dr. Malone was asked to become a member of the Accreditation Board of Examiners of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, and went on to become an Appeals Examiner for the A.B.O.E. After serving six years on the Board of Directors of the AACD, Dr. Malone served as President from 2003-04. He is also on the staff of LSU School of Dentistry as an Assistant Clinical Professor in Prosthodontics. He is a published author in leading journals and speaks internationally on cosmetic and restorative dentistry. Dr. Malone maintains a full-time dental practice limited to cosmetic and reconstructive dentistry in Lafayette, LA.
